

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1745.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from Holland, and with it a Mail from Flanders.

Petersburgh, August 25.

HE Baron de Mardefeldt, his Prussian Majesty's Minister at this Court, having very unexpectedly notified his Master's Intentions to declare War against the King of Poland, Elector of Saxony, it occasioned a Grand Council to be held at the Apartment of the Chancellor, Count de Bessun.

The next Day that Minister address'd himself to M. D'Alion, who resides here on the Part of France, express'd to him his Amazement at the Conduct of Prussian Majesty, which he said was very inconsistent with the Letter written to her Imperial Majesty, the King, his Master; in which he seem'd very ready to accept of her Mediation, and to wish nothing so much as to see the Peace of Europe restored upon reasonable Terms. M. D'Alion answer'd, That this Declaration had nothing to do with his Affairs, unless it was presum'd, that the Step taken by the King of Prussia at the Request, or at least in Concert, with his Most Excellent Majesty; which if it was, he durst engage to his Excellency, that it proceeded from no other Motive, than the Desire of preserving the Independency of the German Body, which was in great Danger of being returned by the open and secret Stipulations among the Allies of Warfaw. The High Chancellor replied, that her Imperial Majesty began almost to despair of doing any Thing in the Way of Mediation; but that in the Spring she would take care to have such a Minister at Sea, as should enable her to perform all her Engagements; and convince the World, that she did not mean to be a tame Spectator of the Ruin of her Allies.

Stockholm, September 3. Our Politicians here were much in the Wrong in guessing that the British Minister had some very particular Reasons for following his Majesty into Scania, nor were they very wide of the Mark in what they took to be the Subject of his Commission. An Express that came from the King yesterday, brought from him to the Senate, the Memorial presented to him by the Minister before-mentioned, and which contain'd in Substance, That his Britannick Majesty having nothing more at Heart than to establish the Tranquillity of Europe, was perswaded that nothing could contribute thereto, so much as vigorous Measures, and executing with Alacrity such Measures, when taken in Concert with his Allies. He therefore propos'd to his Swedish Majesty, to continue towards so salutary an End, by furnishing a Corps of 10,000 Swedish Troops, more or less, as his Majesty of the States of the Kingdom should judge for their Interest, to enter into British Pay. It was to consult on a Point of so great Importance, that the Chancellor, Count Piper, was sent for to his Majesty; but it was the first Step that will be taken in this Affair, and he has an Application to the Court of Russia, to know whether it will be agreeable to the Czarina, pursuant to Clause in the last Treaty; by which it is stipulated, that neither Court shall grant Auxiliaries without the Consent of the other.

From the Spanish Head Quarters before the Citadel of Tortona, August 26, 1745.

We opened the Trenches before this Place in the Night of the 14th, but it was the 23d before our Batteries were in a Condition to play upon the Town; and since that Time, they have ruin'd several Half Moons, and made a Breach in the Body of the Place, eight or nine Feet high. Yesterday, about Eleven in the Morning, we began to fire red-hot Bullets, which soon set Fire to the Works that were made of Fascines, which communicated itself to some Part of the Citadel, and burnt very fiercely till Four o'Clock; when, with much Difficulty, it was extinguish'd. A Defterter brings us Advice, that one of our Bombs having burst upon the Aqueduct, by which the Garrison was furnished with Water, ruin'd it entirely; so that they have now nothing left to drink, but what is left in a Cistern, and which is said to be already stinking; so that we take it for granted it cannot be long before the Place surrenders.

Frankfort, September 13. The constant Usage of this Place being to send out on the Eve of an Election, all the Strangers that happen to be in the Place; such as were here retired Yesterday, as did likewise the Ministers of Foreign Princes that have no Right, by their Credentials, to remain at such a Time; and amongst them, all the Ministers of France. The Baron de Dancelmans, First Ambassador from his Prussian Majesty to the Dyet, being inform'd upon the Road that the Day was fix'd, and that the Menaces of his Master had no other Effect, than to render the rest of the Electoral College more firm and determin'd, thought fit to stop at Hombourg. M. Poliman, Second Minister from his Prussian Majesty, is gone thither to join him, after leaving behind him a Protest, exceeding in Violence all the rest that he has made against the Election, in case they should proceed to it. About an Hour before he departed, he went to the Conference; where he declar'd publicly, that the King, his Master, would rather make it his Choice to separate his Dominions for ever from the Empire, than acknowledge, in that Quality, the Candidate to whom they should define that Dignity; since he look'd upon it as a most notorious and incurable Illegality for them to fix the Day of Election before they had redress'd the Grievances of which he had complain'd. Notwithstanding these strong Steps, which were so little expected the Night before, that some Persons of the first Rank wrote to their Correspondents, that the Election would be unanimous, the Elector of Mentz repaired to the Cathedral Church of St. Bartholomew, where, after singing the Hymn Veni Sancte Spiritus, he enter'd into the Conclave with the Ministers that were to Vote, and there propos'd the Election of a King of the Romans, who should become Emperor; and the Activity of the Vote of Bohemia being re-establish'd and acknowledged, they unanimously agreed to fill the Vacant Throne with the most Serene Prince Francis Stephen, Duke of Lorraine and Barr, and Co-Regent of the Dominions of her Majesty the Queen of Hungary; who was immediately after proclaim'd with the usual Ceremonies, and Couriers sent to carry the News to all Parts of Germany, as well as to London and the Hague.

Ashy, August 28. Yesterday, and this Day, eight Persons were found guilty, four of which, were M^r. Namara, his Brother, and two Women, for robbing John Kelly, near Kill, in this County. M^r. Namara would have shot Kelly; but as they struggled, Kelly flung down a Tub of Buttermilk, which falling on M^r. Namara's Pistol, damped his Priming, that when it was snapp'd, it did not go off. One Eustace, near Naas, is found guilty, for harbouring the above Robbers.

Dublin, August 31. This Day his Excellency the Earl of Chesterfield, and his Lady, arriv'd here.

From the CALEDONIAN MERCURY; dated Tuesday, September 3.

The Bredalbane Post, who left Lochty last Saturday, assures, that the Main of the Highland Army lay at Dalnashardich on Friday; and that it was suppos'd they would march Southwards that Day.

We are likewise inform'd, that the same Body of Highlanders came to the Blair of Athole on Saturday at Two in the Afternoon, where the young Chevalier dined with several Gentlemen in Lowland Dreis. They expected another Body of their People that Night or Sunday.

It is assur'd that the above Body of Highlanders which came to the Blair, with a few which arriv'd there the Day before, are not together above 2000 Men; but it is given out that they had sent some Gentlemen to invite the People of Perthshire, &c. to join them.

It is talk'd that they have about 50 Prisoners with them, and some Deferters in their Service.

We learn by People from the North, that General Cope had sent a Detachment to secure the hazardous Pass of Schlachauk, on the Confines of the Lands belonging to the Grants and Macintoshes.

We were alarm'd on Saturday Evening with Expresses from Perthshire, advising, that 300 Highlanders from the main Army had enter'd Athole, and had sent Notice that they were to take Possession of the Castle of Blair last Friday; and had required the Sheriff-depute, by a Letter, to proclaim, &c. Whereupon a Detachment of 12 Dragoons, and a Sergeant, of the Hon. General Hamilton's Regiment, who lay at Perth, return'd to this City. The Officers of the Revenue have left that Town, as also Mr. Murray of Dollary, Sheriff-depute, &c.

His Grace the Duke of Athole has left that Country, and arriv'd here Yesterday; having received a Letter from his elder Brother, who was arriv'd in 1745, advising, that he was coming to take up his Quarters at the Castle of Blair.

Upon this News the Call to Arms was beat in the Canon-gate at Six in the Evening on Saturday, and General Hamilton's Regiment of Dragoons from Canon-gate and Leith, march'd out, and encamp'd in St. Andrew's Yards.

The Hon. Magistrates, on hearing the above News, went with the Officers of the Guard, and visit'd the Walls and Gates. A second Augmentation of the City Guard was also order'd, and the Train-bands are likewise to do Duty; which was accordingly perform'd after Divine Service, when Captain Robert Tennant took upon him the Command of the City.

We are now advis'd, that General Cope, on receiving Notice that the Highlanders had decamp'd from Lochaber, and direct'd their March Southward, bent his March after them.

The Reverend Presbytery and Magistrates of Edinburgh, have appointed Thursday next as a Day of Fasting and Prayer.

Capt. Beaver of the Fox Man of War, has been cruising all down the Frith from Burntisland, and ordering all Boats and Ships out of all the Harbours upon that Coast; and threatens to sink them in case of Disobedience.

Thomas Welch, a Sailor, was fined 20*l.* and to be imprison'd nine Months, for raising a great Mob, and assaulting several People with a drawn Cutlass, and stabbing Robert White, Keeper of the House of Correction.

Robert Burrell, Thomas Milleman, John Gibbons, and Jonathan Minwright, were fined 40*s.* each, and to be imprison'd one Month, for breaking open the Door of the Dwelling-House of Elizabeth Miles, entering the same in the Night Time, and committing several Outrages, &c.

Timothy James, John Bone, and Samuel Warren, convicted of being arm'd with Cutlasses, Hangers, and other offensive Weapons, and wounding several People, were severally fin'd; James 20*l.* and Bone and Warren in 5*l.* each; as was one Pedro Uley, an Accomplice with them, 5*l.* and all of them six Months Imprisonment.

Richard Morris, Daniel Donnoval, and Thomas Donnoval, convicted of the like Offence, were also severally fin'd; Donnoval in 10*l.* and Morris and Donnoval in 5*l.* and six Months Imprisonment.

The Three-Masted Vessel is small, with two Top-Gallant Yards aloft. These Privateers being out is confirmed by Capt. Jacob Hales, who assures me, that on the 21st of August, O. S. he was in at Swynor, where he saw them all. It's hoped that Captain Jefferys, on his return Home, may have an Opportunity to convey them to England. The Homeward-bound Fleet increases daily, and several Ships from Petersburg are between Burnholm and Falsterbo, and are momentarily expected. The only true Specifick Tincture and Defects of the TEETH and GUMS whatever, which has given such infinite Satisfaction to the Nobility and Gentry for above Twenty Years past, by its vastly exceeding all other Things, and formerly invented or lately contrived for these Purposes.

For the TOOTH-ACH, and all Disorders

SINCE one Drop of it gives instant relief, and infallible Ease in the most tormenting Pain, when nothing else will, and not only takes it away in a moment, but absolutely cures the TOOTH-ACH, so as certainly to prevent its Return.

As only once using it makes the foulest Teeth most beautiful, white, assuredly fastens those that are loose, and infallibly preserves the Teeth from growing rotten, and those a little decay'd, from becoming worse: It perfectly cures the Scavvy of the Gums, causing them to grow up to the Teeth again to Admiration, and also occasions a Sweet Breath.

It is neither disagreeable to the Smell or Taste, but effectually preserves the Teeth and Gums from all Manner of Foulness, Corruption, and Putrefaction, keeps them sound, good, and in most beautiful Order, and may be depended upon to answer the Character here given of it, literally, and in every Respect as Persons innumerable have experienced.

But these inimitable Qualities, and solely inherent Virtues, by which it has justly gain'd such an universal and unparalleled great character, have occasion'd, as usual in such cases, various frequent Endeavours to mimic it, some under the same Name, and in the very Words of this Advertisement, and others under other Names; be careful, therefore, to have the right, which may be infallibly relied upon, and which is to be had only, the Author's Appointment, of the Gentlewoman, at the Blue-Posts, in Haydon-Yard, in the Minories, London, at 24 s. a Bottle, with Directions.

Good Allowance to those who take Quantities for Exportation.

The Grand SPECIFICK SYRUP for CHILDREN.

THIS Syrup, by many Years Experience, has been remarkably serviceable in all Disorders incident to Children, and is the best Preservative known against Convulsions and Epilepsies, when cutting the Teeth.

It expels Wind, prevents four Belchings, and frequent Pukings, helps Digestion, and effectually appeases Gripes. Its Virtues are known to be of uncommon Service in the Chin or Convulsive Coughs, likewise in all Constitutive Cases, either of Children or Grown People, from Obstructions, Knots or Ulcers in the Lungs, attended with Coughs, Catarrhs, Hectic Fevers, Night-Sweats, Fluxings, and Watings of the Flesh; likewise in those Eruptions of Infants call'd the Red-Gum, entirely rooting out and destroying the Acrimonious Humour and inward Heat of the Throat, which for want of timely Relief, kills multitudes of Infants.

It is so innocent, that it may be taken by a Child of a Year old; and is so far from laying the Foundation of a Train of Evils, by stupifying the Senses, and only easing the present Pains, pausing the Stomach, &c. which are well known to attend all Preparations of Opiates, and which, by violent experience, has ruined multitudes of Infants, by locking up the Vessels those very Mischief they were given to expel, which, in a little Time, break out with a double Force, thereby at once ruining the Constitution of the Infant, if not terminating in Death.

Sold at Dr. BATEMAN'S Warehouse, in Bow-Church-Lane, London, at One Shilling the Bottle, containing about an Ounce and a half; sealed as in the Margin, with copious Directions and Instructions in every Case, and a brief Account of the Nature and Original Cause, as well as Cure, of the Distempers common to Infants, according to the Opinion of the best Authors, Ancient and Modern.
